Learning Kemp's Script

A Two-Day Workshop with Bill Kemp

Saturday & Sunday, November 11–12, 2023, 9:00 AM – 4:30 PM

Location: Four Hills,
Albuquerque, NM
* in-person workshop!

What would you do if a client handed you a sample of a script font and asked you to address envelopes in the same style? And what if you only had a partial set of lowercase letters to work from?!

Bill rose to this exact challenge by researching similar script typefaces and, coupled with his extensive knowledge of pointed pen scripts, he developed a full alphabet to fit the client's needs. Bill says that "It not only had to look similar to the sample, but be readable and appropriate for the envelopes and place cards."

Kemp's Script is a versatile vertical script that can be written with a pointed pen in either an oblique or straight penholder. Bill has used this script to write poems and short quotes and he now wants to share it with you!

ABOUT YOUR INSTRUCTOR:

BILL KEMP is a lettering artist but has been told by his mentor, the late Mr. William Lilly, that he is an Engrosser. Bill has been practicing his craft for over 40 years. While he also creates calligraphy with a broad-edged nib, pointed pen is his true love and Engrosser's Script has been his main focus for many years. Bill has studied with many notable instructors including Dick Jackson, Gwen Weaver, Master Penman Mike Kesceg, Deny Knight, John Stevens and his mentor, Master Penman William Lilly. Following eighteen years of study with Mr. Lilly, Bill completed his Certificate of Merit in Engrosser's Script in November 2015.

Bill has served as the president of Escribiente and IAMPETH and has taught at many IAMPETH conferences. He currently teaches online and in person to pointed pen students around the world. His calligraphy business is in Albuquerque, New Mexico where his clients keep him busy and where he gets paid to practice. Visit Bill's website for more info and images.
